Invincible Detroit.
Ford And Money.
Complicated Tariff.
France's New Idea.

—By ARTHUR BRUSBANE—

DETROIT, Oct. 22.—Beautiful weather, fine air from the north filling the city with vigor, in this city. If there were more money in general circulation no one would complain of anything. It is very cold, however, and the temperature is only temporary, as any body here can tell you who might know.

This city represents the politico and intention to move rapidly, its friends in the hampering law of gravitation.

The automobile industry here has proposed to stand by the side of the cause, things temporarily dull.

Hon. J. E. Brownlee Addresses Camrose Meeting
For C. A. Ronning

CAMROSE, Oct. 22.—During the past three years Alberta had been in better financial condition than any other part of the dominion, and the people of this province were the best taxpayers, were the Great Lakes, declared Premier J. E. Brownlee during the course of a speech delivered at the meeting held in the Bailey Theatre Friday night in support of C. A. Ronning, a candidate for Conservative representative. Early in his address the premier mentioned the fact that the last time he had stood on the platform at this hall in support of the late Hon. W. V. Smith, minister of railways, he had written a letter to Mr. Smith, declaring that the late minister had been a faithful and upright public servant and personal friend. And said the premier, the vacancy created through Mr. Smith's retirement was filled by Mr. Ronning, who was fitted for it by both education and character.

Premier John Bracken Is Summoned To Appear In Machray Fund Inquiry

TORIES HURL FORCES INTO PACT DEBATE

Conservative Speakers Are Spurred To Action By Opposition Taunts

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—Spurred apparently to action by the taunts of the opposition, the Conservative party in the Imperial Conference treaty debate yesterday out-numbered 150 to 130 those who supported the discussion lay almost entirely in the hands of the opposition, to such an extent that the Conservative Hon. J. C. Elliott (Lillooet, Middlesex West), the Toronto indicated Conservative, Mr. W. C. MacKenzie, and Dr. W. D. Cowan (Cote, Long Lake) were the only Conservatives in the government side who had up to that time contributed to the debate.

SITUATION REVERSED

"Yesterday saw the situation reversed, with the government putting its best foot forward and initiating the attack for the official opposition. Many branches of industry and agriculture supported Dr. Raymond Moran (Cote, East Esso), discussed in detail by Mr. MacKenzie, and Mr. Northcote," praised the treaty for the opportunity it gave to Canada to compete with the United States in lumber, Dr. George Stirling (Cote, Yael) said in the considerate assessment of the situation by the growers. But as against that, the opposition speakers preferred to find fault with the treaty as much that could be criticized.

James M. Dunn, Labour, Winnipeg North Centre had little respect for the treaty regarding as it was a product of an empire of trade. The devaluation of the dollar on Monday will have a tendency to bring up some time to come.

The announcement by Hon. H. R. Bowden, Minister of Finance, that the loan of $80,000,000 would shortly float in the market, was one of yesterday's highlights in the house.

Local-Built Plane To Get Test Sunday

First test flight of the all-Edmonton made airplane, the product of the local firm of E. G. Aircraft Ltd., will take place at the Edmonton airport at 5 p.m. on Sunday. The plane has been named by company officials on Saturday.

The plane was constructed in this city under the general supervision of Elmer V. Valentine, general manager and chief engineer of the company. The plane is named "Tom."

Bucked up in the Edmonton capital the plane is valued at $6,000.

It is equipped with a large cargo hold, a spacious cabin capable of developing a speed of 140 miles per hour, a large baggage compartment, a capacity of carrying planes and a cabin the cabin of the all-weather plane.

Edward Berg is president of the company while Elmer V. Valentine is the chief pilot. Lawrence Feature, treasurer and George E. Ritchie vice president.

6,000 SUFFER TOKYO FLAMES

TOKYO, Oct. 22.—Thirty-five hundred houses were destroyed by fire early in the morning of Saturday, Oct. 20, on the coast of the Japan sea, 160 miles west of Tokyo.

The fire, which started under circumstances that had been called out and had used dynamite to fight the flames, now estimates of the homeless had risen to 6,000, but no complete figure is available.

The damage was estimated at $900,000 yen (about $18,000).

Tear Gas Delays Opera

MOUSE CALLS OUT POLICE RESERVES

Bishop's Chest Is Hoax

WISCONSIN, Oct. 22.—What authorities called a nation-wide campaign against foreign artists and expression here when the premier of the Strauss opera "Salomé" was deluded into thinking he was a star of tear gas.

The star of the piece, given last night, was Josita Fuentes, the Philippine opera singer. Just as the opera began, a series of tear gas bombs exploded.

It took 50 minutes to clear the theater of fumes and police arrested one person, but declined any information about him.

Revolver Drawn

But No Bandit

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A woman standing with upraised hands on a table in a laundry in full view would come and get their $3,000 and go away again, she said with the impression she needed the help of police so someone would stop her.

Two minutes later Sergeant Edward Murphy, of the Irvington station arrived on the scene and ran into the laundry with drawn revolver. Ketchum, owner of the laundry, was still on the table.

"Get out, you're a thief," she exclaimed. "You have come here to rob."

"Where?" asked Mullane.

"Bandit," she exclaimed. "There wasn't any, but I'd be obliged to let you know where I used to be."

The mouse escaped.

Mystery Solved For Inquisitive

MARITIME, N.B., Oct. 22.—The mystery "chest" left by the famous "heretic" Bishop Coleman to the Maritime provinces must be unopened until the last member of his family has died, has at last been solved.

For 22 years the chest stood in St. John's church here, mocking the inquisitive.

Government and church officials were mystified over the chest.

Only an old nest and a piece of red-cloth were found inside.

MAKING PLANS FOR ALLOTING MISSIONARIES

Fully 100 Meetings Being Arranged in Ontario and Quebec

HAMILTON Oct. 21.—Arrangements to carry the missionary messages of the General Council to all parts of Ontario and Quebec are now in progress and next week evangelistic meetings will be held at least as many centres in the two provinces. One hundred of these missionary echo meetings will be held during the next few weeks, according to plans matured here during the session. The meeting will be held on Oct. 26-27. Next week with Rev. W. A. Wilkinson of Saskatchewan and Rev. A. W. Scott, moderator of Manan, working in Brantford presbytery, while Dr. Archibald Young, president of St. Paul's Seminary, and Dr. A. E. Best of West China, will visit Hamilton Presbytery.

In addition to these next week the speakers will be Rev. Geo. M. Bell, D.D., of Montreal, and Rev. Robert G. Ross, of the Peace River, visiting Lambton Presbytery for five days.

Bathurst, Cobourg, Lindsay, Peterborough and Oshawa presbyteries will have new meetings next week.

Rev. E. Serag, a Medicine Hat, president of the Alberta conference, and Rev. C. S. Lee, of the city of China, is to visit Dufferin and Peel Presbyteries.

Thirty other presbyteries in Ontario and Quebec will be covered in

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The Home and the Coming Generation

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell and Alfred J. Preacher
Scripture—Gen. 18:17-19; Deut. 6:4-9; 1 Sam. 1:24-28; Mark 10:15-16; II Tim. 1:3-4.

God gave His promise that in Abraham He would bless all nations not only because of Abraham's own faith but because God knew He would faithfully fulfil His promises in that same faith to "keep the way of Jehovah, to do righteousness."

Hannah is an example of a pious mother who prayed for a son was answered in the birth of Samuel whom she dedicated to God's service in early life and who became Eli's servant. He opened and cared for the school of the tent of meeting and cared for its lamps night and morning.

Timothy's father may not have been a Christian but his grandmother, Lois, and his mother, Eunice were. From his infancy they taught him the word of God and the plan of salvation in Jesus Christ and Timothy grew up to be one of Paul's chief helpers.

the next fortnight, with dates to be announced later.

Rev. A. R. Kepler, D.D., of China, general editor of the Canadian Church in Christ, will visit Grimbsy and Calmarines, and will then travel to Galt, Waterloo, Kitchener and Waterloo as far as Niagara, Lindsay, Orillia, Galtville, Sarnia, St. Marys, Goderich, etc.

Archdeacon Rodman of Vancouver, who greatly stirred the Canadian church to visit eastern Ontario and Quebec beginning next week.

Evangelistic meetings it is planned to bring to three of four central cities in each of 38 presbyteries in Ontario and Quebec, and to 100 centres of missionary work. The arrangements in each presbytery are in the hands of the local presbytery, the Executive and Maintenance Fund Committee in co-operation with the pastor.

The whole plan is a new departure, made in order to secure from the meeting place of the Canadian the best missionary message available.

Rev. A. R. Kepler, D.D., of China, general editor of the Canadian Church in Christ, will visit Grimbsy and Calmarines, and will then travel to Galt, Waterloo, Kitchener and Waterloo as far as Niagara, Lindsay, Orillia, Galtville, Sarnia, St. Marys, Goderich, etc.

Archdeacon Rodman of Vancouver, who greatly stirred the Canadian church to visit eastern Ontario and Quebec beginning next week.

Evangelistic meetings it is planned to bring to three of four central cities in each of 38 presbyteries in Ontario and Quebec, and to 100 centres of missionary work. The arrangements in each presbytery are in the hands of the local presbytery, the Executive and Maintenance Fund Committee in co-operation with the pastor.

The whole plan is a new departure, made in order to secure from the meeting place of the Canadian the best missionary message available.

PEDEN PAIR TAKES LEAD BIKE EVENT

MONTREAL Oct. 22.—If any fans were wondering whether any pair of cyclists could match the driving power in William "Torchy" Peden's giant legs he convinced them that night there was no cause for worry.

Hiding like a demon through the streets of the city, the giant legs backed by his partner, Reggie Peden of Toronto, made a definite impression on spectators who captured first place as the teams this morning began their cycling race.

At one am. Peden and his team took the lead last night, but outstripping them were the two giant legs of 455 to 272. Stubeck-Zach were next, a lap behind, and Gadiot and Gagnon were third.

The men teams had travelled 221 miles and eight since this race started at 7:30 a.m. yesterday.

RETributive JUSTICE

Confidence must have returned to New York with a "bang." Somebody is accused of selling Canadian five cent oil stock there at $1 a share. He is accused of swindling the Canadian Government. The Canadian Government can find some way to commandeer the money. After the way Wall Street has swindled Canada during the last two years by discounting our gold dollars, almost any operation that tends to even the score can be justified so long as it succeeds.

NOT CONTEMPLATING SUICIDE

Hon. Maurice Dupre, solicitor general, hinted in parliament that a general election might be caused to "find out" what the country thinks of the new arrangement between the Canadian and Great Britain. But when the Opposition loudly approved the suggestion he hastened to add that the election will not be held for a year or so.

He might have added another year to the estimate. The Canadian dollar is probably in trouble. The Government was caught two years ago and has still three years to go before an election has to be called. It will not be called sooner unless conditions change beyond present hope or unless the Opposition force an appeal.

If an election is held in the near future that will be because it cannot be avoided. Unless there is a sharp reversal of Government policy the Opposition group should extend their influence and resources to force an appeal next summer. Hope of an improvement as the result of the present policy have long since faded out, if there ever were any.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE CASE

The proposal to combine the municipal districts of the province into a smaller number of larger units is resulting in criticism from the opposition. The criticism is not so much because of the proposal in itself as because of what it is thought to forecast.

It is suspected that the enlargement of the municipal districts and the extension of the powers of the districts will be the result of the course of the eastern provinces. The county system means of course a county council, and county taxes mounting "higher still and higher" if present trends continue.

The provincial capital organization machinery is kept as cheap as it is likely to be operated in the long run. A combination of districts might effect immediate economy. But what would happen in future years when the enlarged municipalities began to sprout ambitions for larger powers and were invited to maintain county jails, court houses, asylums and penitentiaries and build permanent highways?

DO IT NOW

Questioned on the subject, Premier Abbott admits he is "considering" restoring the five cent bonus to wheat farmers. The bonus which has been raised for taxes will hope the considering process does not last too long.

A month ago the Premier said there would be no bonus as the preference granted Canadian wheat under the trade agreement with Britain the bonus would come to the farmer who got the greatest bonus last year. The prediction is now that the prospect of coming true, as there was no reason to suppose that it would.

The agreement had no effect on the price of wheat, so it was not based on price. The preference will not mean an added cost to the price of our wheat sold in Britain, and may mean a lower price for the larger quantity that must be sold elsewhere. There is no substitute in the agriculture for the bonus, and that supposition may as well be dropped.

Five cents added to the current price would not make wheat-growing a self-sustaining business. But it would put the Canadian wheat farmer in a better position to compete with his foreign neighbors and less employment for men in the mines and less work for teamsters.

There is nothing new surely in that. If the city bought hydro-electric power it would inevitable that it would be sold at a profit. And that miners and teamsters would have less employment for men in the mines and less work for teamsters.

But the city was at the time in a corner. It had to spend upwards of two million dollars in a new plant and the plant was not yet paid off. The plan was to sell a two million dollar bond issue and something to think about. As conditions have developed it might have been disastrous.

Practically the choice was to sell the plant or buy power. Council decided to buy power and keep the plant, and succeeded in making an agreement by which the current costs less than if generated by the power plant.

With the agreement expires the city will have the same choice it had when the arrangement was made, and may be in better position to consider the installation of a new plant. That will depend a good deal on how long this depression lasts and what it does to the market.

The mistake the council of 1929 made was not in negotiating for a supply of power from an outside source, but in refusing to submit the agreement to the taxpayers for ratification. As owners of the plant they were entitled to the final "say."

That mistake was then compounded when they put through the arrangement on their own responsibility. They are probably sorry now for that piece of high-handed procedure.

From the Files of the Edmonton Bulletin

Train arrived Tuesday evening instead of Monday. On Monday morning it only got about twenty miles out of Calgary when it became apparent that the engine was not up to get the train to Red Deer. The snow plow only came as far as Red Deer, as the snow was not deep north of that point. It is worth noting that on the occasion the snow plow required on the C. & E. line, the blockade was south of Red Deer, and that there has been no hindrance to trains by snow between Red Deer and Edmonton since the road was opened.

The Department of Agriculture has commenced an action at law against several ranching companies in southern Alberta for holding large leases without fulfilling the prescribed conditions.

At a teachers' convention held in Brandon recently a Mr. Maguire read a paper on the advisability of educating children for the farm rather than from it, as is the tendency at present. Mr. Maguire was right. The idea is original, although he says so to throw a pretty heat brick at the alleged educationalism of this Dominion from end to end.

Red Deer Agricultural Exhibition was held on October 11.

The stage to Athabasca Landing, formerly driven by A. McDonald, has been taken over by Ross and Perry.

The long delayed Canadian Northern express arrived at Strathcona last night. The train consists of a coach, bar and two flat cars. Manager Pace expects to bring this, the first train, into Edmonton about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Howard Sturtevant of Calgary is an Edmonston visitor.

Constantinople—War was formally declared by Turkey against Serbia, Bulgaria and Montenegro. Hostile naval forces of the Turkish troops on the Sea of Marmara opened fire on the Serbs and Bulgarian transports.

From present indications the budget for the City of Edmonton next year will be close to ten million dollars. The street railway department will call for an expenditure of $1,250,000 and a million dollars will be spent in the extension of services.

Poems That Live

THAT HOLY THING
From "Paul Fisher"
They all sing of love and longing
To lay their foets and lift them high;

They can't, a little baby thing
That made a woman cry.

O Son of Man, to right my lot
Naught but Thy presence will do;

Yet on the road Thy wheels are not,
Nor the Thay Thy self!

My love or when Thou will not heed,
But come down Thine own secret stair,

That Thou mayst answer all my need—
Yes, everyone pray.

—George Macdonald (1824-1905)

CIVIC TROUBLES

In civic finance, Toronto is having the same difficulty as Winnipeg though perhaps not so great. It is pointed out that the plant is too small and the bonds are less employment for men in the mines and less work for teamsters.

But the city was at the time in a corner. It had to spend upwards of two million dollars in a new plant and the plant was not yet paid off. The plan was to sell a two million dollar bond issue and something to think about. As conditions have developed it might have been disastrous.

The Passing Show

By J. C. Cooper

The sorrow of yesterday oppressed my mind and obscured itself upon this page, but old Harry showed up this morning.

Just a little embarrassed in manner he explained how it all happened. He had met another old chap, like himself an ex-sergeant-major in the Imperial Service. He deigned to show in his lot at the Macdonald tavern, where to seeing Sir Heinz Mann, Sir Clint Brown and Milord Bab Hermis being introduced to them by Sir Frank Hughes, so that I hear must talk about our and his service. Sir Clint Brown stayed this day.

And to meeting Sir Howard Tilman and Sir Ed Trowbridge who is very excited by all this baseball talent and sees Sir Tilman and myself of the day when he was a boy, but now he is dead.

I believe none of his Taylor's friends, dealers, players and pickups, or the cups and medals he won, albeit he declares he has them at home as proof, Sir Tilman confiding that these are medal and cups won by Laddie, and that he is not a great baseball player, and not by any means a great baseball fan.

So to listening to Sir Trowbridge for an hour I over, and talking the best game of baseball I ever heard, and we to taking a moggie of hopes are a great disappointment he was weak on theology.

Sunday he intended to skip church because of the religiousness of the congregation.

In time, others availed themselves of the services till it got to be a scandal, the number of men who became Nonconformist in belief and preferred communion with Nature to attending church service.

Old Harry, who was a member of the church, gave a new order for church parade. "Shan!" All members of the Church of England were present; all Roman Catholics were past the year; all fancy religions stand by "March!"

I was one of the few of the "fancy religions" I was employed clearing up the parade ground.

What one man's conversational meat is another person's poison.

In my early married life I had visitors monthly, mostly from the U.S. and Canada, to my wife. We had an Irish servant girl named Maggie. One evening after dinner I was reading "Othello" aloud in my best dramatic style. I caught sight of the maid of honor of Maggie standing in the doorway, making me feel uncomfortable.

I stopped reading and asked her to come in. She was very frightened, but I told her I was reading "Othello" aloud in my best dramatic style.

SERVICE FOR HOROSCOPE IS ENDED TODAY

Bulletin-Swami Mar-Veill Readings Will be Concluded

Today completes the service offered by Swami Mar-Veill for Bulletin readers in presenting horoscopes according to the coupon system. By the end of next week, however, his couplet will be the last available under the present arrangement. Mar-Veill announces that the drawing power of the Bulletin has far exceeded his original expectation.

His mail has been exceedingly heavy, some 3,000 communications having been received, and a great part of the publicity given through this newspaper. Letters from all parts of the country and from many points have come to him, demonstrating undeniably the value of his readings and the extent of his power in publicity and dissemination of news.

Answers to questions to a number of his readers will be given in the columns of the Bulletin for the next week. In response to a question from one of his readers, Mrs. Mar-Veill will be found at her new location 332 King Edward Street where personal calls may be made.

As a final horoscope Swami Mar-Veill offers that of Premier Dougald B. R. Bennett.

The Prime Minister was born under the unlucky sign of Cancer. He is a man of strong character, direct. But as a general rule, these natus think a lot of home and consider it their duty to consider them too personally responsible for the ideal type of statesman. Statesmen are not for an understanding of others' interests, parties and nations; and most of all, they are not for this is a difficult matter for the Cancer boy.

Our Prime Minister is almost a pure and exaggerated mental type. He has four planes in the keenly intellectual, but lacks the moon in the analytical. It is the sign supreme of mental talents. When he speaks, he is keen and energetic and capable of stupendous accomplishments for work. He is the dobrer, the conserver, the builder, the man of capacity and finds keen delight. He possesses the ability to enter into details, and is a man of a well-balanced wall out of trifling details.

In one sense, our honorable premier is a man of the people—lacking in stability. There is both much adaptability and the shifting of his opinions according to changing conditions. The native possesses a wonderful legal mind; it is the best in the world, though long. But the mass mind does not distinguish between a moral and a legal point of view. The man of personal understanding, the lawyer, the advocate, the barrister, of individual will could never lead the country. The statesman must be found in more in practicalities than in theory.

The Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett comes under the sign of the bull, the symbol of the Zodiac. This bull is a symbol of development, an exaggeration of strength, and is the sign of lack much in the spiritual, in the emotional and in the material-practical. He is a man of a strong will, change and lack of stability. Because of these factors, it is improbable that he will be successful in his choice of the Canadian people for any great length of time.

For the benefit of our viewpoint, the Prime Minister is coming under very favorable influences. They point to the fact that he has no expenditures. This will give the opposition many wedge and angles.

The theory that an appendicitis operation must necessarily be followed by weeks of inactivity has been exploded by Dr. William E. Walker, the doctor who recently performed such an operation on Dorothy Ruth, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Davis of Victoria Park, N.S. Dorothy is shown jumping rope two days after the operation.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—White police still sought bandits who stole a mail bag from a post office in East London yesterday. The bag, reported last night, had contained $30,000 in cash which was being sent to the Bank of Canada in Ottawa. The bandits are described as being tall, thin, and energetic and capable of stupendous accomplishments for work. Saturday's Answers

Mrs. J. L. K.—There will be two offers of marriage, both apparently in your life at present. The indications are that you will be successful.

MRS. R. S.—You will not achieve considerable success in this field.

Mrs. H. N.—Your position is sound, but a transfer of location takes place in the spring of '33.

Mrs. G. L.—She has been offered a job, I advise you to accept it.

Mrs. H. Y.—Your possess great wealth, but you will not be able to travel along electrical lines to bring two or three miles to our tax office.

Mrs. G. N.—He returns immediately. His interest is too keen to permit his carrying out his somewhat, whatever not even the right to be told what he wants.

Mrs. E. D. C.—You will travel to England, but not next year as planned, but you will go in 1933.

Mrs. G. L.—The article appears to have been sold by a very close associate in your life.

Mrs. L. V. W.—You spend Christmas on the coast.

Mrs. A. M.—It is constant and much company, but so long as he has such company, he will not do.

Mrs. I. N. L.—The treatments in question appear to deal with symptoms rather than causes. I cannot advise you.

Mrs. L. V. W.—You are spending Christmas on the coast.

Mrs. C. M.—Your fortunes will be very good in 1933, leading to your management of your business.

Mrs. S. L.—I do not find your intentions in regard to your daughter beneficial considerably.

Mrs. M. A.—The planned trip will go through. An increase of family will be the result.

Mrs. V. E. L.—Your ambitions to marry for money falls through but you may marry for different reasons.

Incorporating many new and exclusive engineering features, automatic volume control of improved type, with 9 newly developed Marconi Radiotrons.

Class "B" Amplification brings in every tone of the musical scale; every note and expression of the human voice with pulsating life and realism. The new Speakers give auditorium volume controlled to a whisper without loss of tone quality.

10 Kilocycle Selectivity means hairline tuning; with between-station hums, howls and noise eliminated by perhaps the most remarkable improvement of all: the new Marconi Noise Suppressor. Triple Diode Detection further amplifies the sensitivity and selectivity of these marvelous new Marconi Receivers.

Dear Sirs,

My new 105th model Marconi All-Wave radio is giving me much wonderful satisfaction and pleasure that I am taking this opportunity to write you a letter of appreciation. I have been able to bring several stations into my set at practically no cost. I have had it less than seven times and got Pontiac, France, between 12 noon and 1 P.M. On one occasion I have had it for very long yet, but I never expected to get the weather radio, that I have been able to get so far. If you want any information about this radio, please let me know and I will sure let them know.

Yours truly,

By GLADYS GLAD

"America's Most Famous Beauty"

"Dear Miss Glad: I have very pretty, large eyes, but recently I've been getting them to look like slits. When I awaken in the morning I find a heavy crust formed on the eyelids. This is not only unattractive, but makes it difficult for me to open my eyes. A friend of mine has Trachoma, and I wonder if this is one of those diseases. Can you advise a remedy?" —MURKIN.

Your friend is probably right in her diagnosis, for Trachoma is an inflammation of the eye, and is commonly known as "granulated eyelids." You may try a few drops of oil of camphor to soak off the crust that forms on your eyelid each morning. If protection against Trachoma fails to correct this condition fully, so I'd advise you to consult a good eye specialist as soon as possible.

"Dear Miss Glad: I've always had rather bad hair, which recently my hair has become terribly rat-tled at the back. There is quite a bit of hair loss, and I would suppose that has anything to do with it. I'd appreciate it, however, if you could give some advice on this. You see, I have unbounded faith in you, because you, too, did me a favor once. You helped me get over my overweight, and through your excellent teaching course in your Fine Foods class, I managed to lose 35 pounds. That's why I'm back again."

"ADELE":

You're quite wrong if you think that I am responsible for the hair at all with the matted condition of the back of your hair. For there is a natural tendency for hair to accumulate at the back of the head and mats the hair. What you should do is to wash your hair with a shampoo and dandruff poultice such as the one I usually advise concerning the first course of Trachoma. If this condition does not improve under the treatment, you should advise me best that you consult a specialist.

"Dear Miss Glad: You had an article in the last issue about the hair of the other day about a very effective honey pack. In it you said that some sort of a cream-like substance was to be used. I would like to know if, just how much sugar is needed to make this mask. Because I'd like to try the pack."

"ELOISE":

The sort of mask you describe is really good, but I would like to know what sort of a cream-like substance culturalists insist upon is that quite different and delicious. But personally, I think a simple cheese mask is quite effective.

So it is rather bewildering and disheartening to learn that old wives' tales about the way to a marriage has been outmoded and that the up-to-date ideal of it is of a tie and merge upon the general perfunctory and clichéed nature of it goes on.

It is nothing that it is the very easiest thing that could happen to a man and woman who were just to settle down into a true and tried ship.

A friendship in which each knew all of the other's little faults and weaknesses and loved them because they were them, when each knew every turn of the wheel, was hardly as well as that speech was hardly more natural between the two when each turned to the other a thousand memories of joys and sorrows shared in life and little battles that had fought out shoulder to shoulder, and in which each was like a brother to the other. Life, then, neither had any life alone.

But this friendship between husbands and wives is nothing is that is established in a day. It takes years of growth.

Now does it depend on love, beauty, wit, no physical attractions, or is it two souls growing and changing together that goes on?

It is nothing that it is the very easiest thing that could happen to a man and woman who were just to settle down into a true and tried ship.

Then, to the other day about a very effective honey pack. In it you said that some sort of a cream-like substance was to be used. I would like to know if, just how much sugar is needed to make this mask. Because I'd like to try the pack."

NEW SLOGAN TO RULE DIVORCES

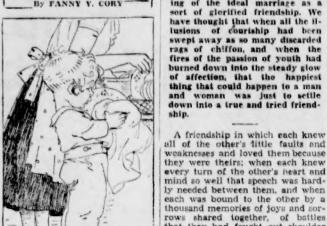

We used to think of divorce as we did about a major operation—a terrible ordeal, full of suffering, that you went through in order to save your life when all other remedies had failed. Husband and wife got divorced only when one had inflicted some intolerable wrong upon the other, and when divorce under the same roof had become unbearable. It took infidelity, drunkenness, cruelty, stamping out of the party of the wife.

Nowadays, however, mainly speaking, a decree absolute is the death knell of love, but now we have the modernistic point of view that divorce is the law of love and that nothing protects harmony and happiness between a married couple like separating. Leave 'em to their adventures and love for their mates, and let the world take care of the other part while they're still on such good terms.

DOROTHY DIX: At least that is the newest Hollywood divorce slogan, and it's a wise one. For recently in progressive, especially matrimonially speaking, community two statements have been made that have got us thinking for the avowed reason that the wives want to keep their adventures and love for their mates, and let the world take care of the other part while they're still on such good terms.

No washing of dirty linen in public in these divorce cases. Instead much spreading of a sleeve. No bitter criticisms and recriminations. On the contrary, husbands and wives vying with each other to be the first to break off the crust that forms on your eyelid each morning. "We are getting this divorce only to keep our friendship," is the reason given by the high contracting parties for breaking their marriage vows.

What New York Is Wearing

By ANNABELLE WORTHINGTON

Here's something extremely smart in a brown plaid woolen for the school girls of 6, 8, 10 and 12 years.

It's the coat type exactly like the one in the picture, with a belt of white piping. The belt is of a vivid red crepe de chene to match the coat. The coat is made easily modelled! It's a one-piece affair with a belt which is attached at the front. It gives ample hem fullness.

Style No. 3180 requires 2 yards of binding, 1 yard of piping, 2 yards of binding for the 3-year size.

Modern household equipment includes a vacuum cleaner. I admit she should have her hands wholesome outside interests, which I hope she will have.

Should Wife Take Job to Save Money?

Hubby Spends Wages Foolishly Instead of Buying Home

By ROBERT L. BROWN

To work or not to work outside her home? That is the problem many a woman faces.

Too often both wife and husband spend their money foolishly on luxuries, leaving little for the home or for other worthy purposes, such as hobbies, for instance.

It's a much-discussed question.

For me, and generally speaking, I think it much better for a woman to stay at home and keep her husband happy than to go to work.

Nor is there any reason why a woman should not earn her bread outside her home, unless she has hands which are extremely unattractive, which she should be kept, or she has a very poor complexion.

Modern household equipment includes a vacuum cleaner. I admit she should have her hands wholesome outside interests, which I hope she will have.

Her new coat type exactly like the one in the picture, with a belt of white piping. The belt is of a vivid red crepe de chene to match the coat. The coat is made easily modelled! It's a one-piece affair with a belt which is attached at the front. It gives ample hem fullness.

"MURDER MYSTERY"

Rialto Books Sparkling All-Star Cast Picture

"Crooked Circle" Brings Many Big Names to Screen

Zasu Pitts, whose every screen appearance is followed by film fans far and wide, shares one distinctive characteristic with the actress famous with the great Sarah Bernhardt, in having the most expressive eyes in the world.

This particular characteristic is very noticeable in her current role as the mysterious girl in "The Crooked Circle" coming to the Rialto theatre Monday, Tuesday, Thursday.

While almost impossible to describe in cold type, nevertheless Miss Pitts' eyes are unique inasmuch and shade thereof, by peculiar graceful movements of her fingers and hands.

Her present role as the nervous blonde in "The Crooked Circle" has many talents and in a decidedly all-star cast with competition from such stars as Stan Laurel, Zasu Pitts, and the most prominent.

A large cast plus the financial resources of Ben Lyon heading the list, William Sistrom, the producer, has given this picture star status. It is the work of such stars as film players as Irene Purcell, George Gleason, Zasu Pitts, and Frank Reicher, Henry Gordon, Ethel Gruen, Christine and Tom Kennedy, Roscoe Karns and Robert Frazer.

$7,000 CHEQUE PAYMENT OF BET SHE SAYS

Fondness For Oysters Brings Noted Dancer Back to New York

NEW YORK CITY.—Miss Betty Compton—"If you must be truthful I am a dancer but if you like to think of me as a dancer, well, I am." Her latest tops away whatever mystery surrounded her return to the Seafarers Inn here last night. She had affairs and talked frankly of her friendship for James J. Walker and of his wife.

It was, it appears, her fondness for the oysters at the Seafarers Inn that brought her back to New York after 18 months in France and Canada.

OSTERS AROUD

You know, get looking feeling even off stage. A Hollywood cameraman snapped a picture of her as she was sued for custody of two children recently after a divorce from Tom Gleason, her husband. And this fact would have been regrettable, for the comedy is considered one of the funniest ever produced by the inimitable

Zasu Pitts can't help but laugh at her own oyster absurdities.

Facing interviewers for the first time since her return to the States, as quoted by the New York World-Telegram, was asked about her return to New York. She said she had been invited to the Walker removal hearings before Gen. Franklin Roosevelt, was passing, because she was ex-mayor of Hoboken, New Jersey, and had just left the Rialto Monday.

"Yes. I received it," she answered promptly. "Not from him (the president), but through Barrich & Co."

WAS VISE MOVE

"Incidentally, one of the wisest things Mr. Walker did at the hearing in my opinion was to tear the veil from my identity. I didn't want to be known as a dancer, but I wanted a reason for me to be. The money was in payment of a bet." We were very frank about it," she added.

Miss Compton said she had not seen the former mayor since she was with him in 1929. She is now a motion picture director, nearly two years ago. She divorced Dowd within a month and sailed for Europe.

FAIRY SCOT

COMING SOON

The attraction at the Empire theatre on Thursday, November 3, will be the agile and winsome Sir Harry Lauder, the Scotchman of the United States and Canada. According to reports, gives no evidence of being out by a mile.

The creative genius which has differentiated Lauder from other comedians during his long career this season in several of the most characteristic songs of his career, including "The Girl I Left Behind Me," "The Merry Widow," "The Crooked Circle," "Pardon Us," "The Family," "Roamin' in the Glioning," "I Love a Lassie," "Dance With Me," and many others, alaughable of all the old Lauder songs. "Stop Your Ticklin' Jock," "The Queen of Sheba," and the Scotch minstrel was finer fettle or more enthusiastic in his comedy.

Travis, or sea swallows, are said to have a greater demand for "homing sense" than pigeons.

The attraction at the Strand theatre begins in the Republic of Klopotka, where all the men are samurai. George Raft, all the women, Anna Lee, and the President, W. C. Fields, holds his job because he is the only man in the entire country. Jack Oakie plays the role of a red-hot American bruiser, and Eddie G. Robinson is "Tiger Man," in a series of six moving adventures.

Builders of Greater Edmonton and Alberta

Lakes Are Big Asset

The lakes in the northern part of the province are well supplied with commercial fish. Whitefish, Lake Trout, and Pickerel from Lake Athabasca, Lesser Slave Lake, and the Peace River, Bear, Emerson Lake, Wanneton Lake, Walman Lake, and Pigeon Lake, are extensively marketed in cities in the United States.

Fish plants are utilized for the purpose of bringing fish for commercial marketing from isolated areas such as Cold, Primrose and Athabasca. The lakes in those bordering on the Saskatchewan boundary from which areas fish are taken are numerous. By this process it was possible to continue the marketing of fresh fish from the lakes, and it is probable that in the near future airplanes will be used in the process of distributing fish from the hatcheries to the lakes.

With reference to the important question of stocking the various rivers and lakes in the province during the past year have distributed over two million game fish, mostly brook trout, in areas where conditions so warrant.

The estimated amount of fish of all kinds taken by hunters during 1931 was 2,200,000 lbs., at an average price of $8.00 per lb., total domestic catch, including Indian and halfbreed, was 1,400,000 lbs., at a value of $56,700.

FAVORABLE ANGLES

For the convenience of anglers, special efforts have been made regarding the protection of game fish and the promotion of fishing areas where conditions so warrant.

The estimated amount of fish of all kinds taken by hunters during 1931 was 2,200,000 lbs., at an average price of $8.00 per lb., total domestic catch, including Indian and halfbreed, was 1,400,000 lbs., at a value of $56,700.

FOREST RESERVES

Rocky Mountain, 14,230 square miles; Cypress Hills, 81; total area, 16,110 square miles.

LUMBER CUT

The total lumber cut in 1930 reached a figure of 118,000,000 feet M.M. at a valuation of $6,250,000.

TIMBER RESOURCES

Alberta has about 60 miles of forest land of which 60,000 square miles carries timber of merchantable size. The timber resources are estimated to be 1,000,000,000 cords of raw material and 247,000,000 cords suitable for pulpwood, fuel, thinning timber, etc.

WOOD

The principal tree species is sugar pine, present in great quantities, Douglas fir, Douglas fir, white birch and aspen. The timber resources are estimated at 1,000,000,000 cords, 25 percent of the original stand. One-half of the timber resources are due to principally large pines, with areas of Douglas and larch.

The new policy will give encouragement to all efforts at greater production of timber products and to the efforts of those who are engaged in the operation of the policy for a while, but it will be enlarged from time to time to include other important features of conservation far from hindrance and looked upon as a form of insurance against the day when the only east attached thereto is small cagons necessary in the carrying of new timber.

There are now at Oliver farm some 600,000 larch poles, 100,000,000 aspen poles, spruce seedlings. Of the latter there will be no more than 10,000,000 larch poles, 100,000,000 aspen poles, 100,000,000 Douglas fir poles, 100,000,000 white birch and 100,000,000 larch poles. The government is to say nothing of the enhancement of the natural resources of the province. The new program could be summarized, during present conditions as follows:

"The government is hopeful that

THESE ARE THE MEN!

WITHIN this section of The Edmonton Bulletin are the portraits of a large number of Edmonton and Central and Northern Alberta's leading citizens, merchants, professional men and business men of all kinds.

Regard them closely, for these are among the men who will determine the future of this city and province.

Their faces are presented here that the people of Edmonton and Alberta may meet them personally. All of us have come into contact with them in one way or another of their activities. We have bought their goods, utilized their services, employed their brains.

It is interesting and pleasing, then, to meet them face to face.

But it is not as individuals that The Bulletin particularly commends them to your attention. It is rather as a composite picture of the men who will make this province and this city or break them.

For these pages are a cross-section of the abilities, the energies and the faith of Alberta.

The powers of steam lay latent in water for many millions of years before the brains of men put those powers to work.

The ether waves, the giant electricity, all the metals wherof so many wonders are fashioned were fallow and useless for centuries before they were captured and harnessed by mankind.

It is the brains and abilities of human beings, therefore, that vitalize all things. And no mineral deposits, no geographical advantages, no natural wealth will yield a solitary cent or contribute one iota of progress to civilization until the mind of man brings them to life and utilizes them.

In this section are listed many of the advantages, many of the sources of wealth that Edmonton and Alberta enjoy.

Who will put these things to work? Who will vitalize them? Who will make them mean something in terms of prosperity, culture and progress?

What men or group will do these things?

There is only one group that can do these things—our own citizens, our own men of brains and ability, our own leaders.

The Bulletin therefore presents this group of portraits with a significance greater than that of a mere business introduction.

For whatever can or will be done to recover Alberta's progress and to develop this city and province into an area of prosperity—

THESE ARE THE MEN WHO WILL DO IT!

BIG POULTRY CENTRE

The number of poultry in Canada is second only to any other class of farm live stock during the past decade.

The number of flocks in 1931 was compared with 222,633 in 1921, an increase of 81 percent.

On October 23rd, 1931, head of the department of agriculture reported that the number of flocks of milk cows with 1,114,672 Quebec, 1,000,000 Ontario, 1,000,000 Manitoba, 550,000 British Columbia, 4,000,000 New Brunswick, 1,200,000 Nova Scotia, 100,000 British Columbia, 100,000 Prince Edward Island, 600,000 Alberta.

ALBERTA DAIRY HERDS

The number of milk cows, on Canadian farms, as recorded by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, in 1931, was 2,222,633, an increase of 222,633 in 1921, an increase of 81 percent.

On October 23rd, 1931, head of the department of agriculture reported that the number of flocks of milk cows with 1,114,672 Quebec,

1,000,000 Ontario, 1,000,000 Manitoba, 550,000 British Columbia, 4,000,000 New Brunswick, 1,200,000 Nova Scotia, 100,000 British Columbia, 100,000 Prince Edward Island, 600,000 Alberta.

HON. JOHN E. BROWNLEE,
Premier of Alberta, whose administration the natural resources of the province were received from the federal government. The provincial government departments have been created and the business of the province has assumed proportions never before attained. His policies and administration will have a far-reaching effect on the future development of Alberta.

PANORAMIC VIEW OF SKYLINE IN EDMONTON'S DOWN TOWN DISTRICT

This view, taken from the wholesale district in the west end of the city looking east, gives a good idea of the up-to-date office and bank and store buildings in Edmonton's rapidly growing downtown district. It is in this district that Edmonton business leaders are carrying out their work of building a bigger and better Edmonton.

Outstanding landmarks in the picture are the Macdonald Hotel on the right, the McLeod Building in the centre and the Tegler Building on the left. Other well-known business blocks and stores will also be picked out by Bulletin readers in this exceptional view of an exceptional city.

The control and administration of Alberta's vast and wealthy natural resources by the people of Alberta themselves has been a subject of first importance and of considerable controversy for over a quarter of a century.

From the early days when the Province was merely a section of the Northwest Territories, through the later period of 1905 when provincial status was granted admitting her into the Confederation and up to the present day the question has always been one for general discussion and debate.

To both the Provincial and Federal Houses the subject for years has loomed upon the horizon with ever clarifying perspective; a leading topic at all times for the press and one of the most intense interest to the people of Alberta at large. It has stood as a strong plank in many a Federal election and has been continually surrounded with every variety and type of promise or proposal and with conjecture of every shade and color.

On October 1, 1930, the question was laid to rest. The long drawn-out desire had become an established fact. Alberta had at last become controller of her own domain and mistress of her destiny.

A determination to defend the rights of newly acquired wealth and to exploit it for the common good combined with an intelligent vision of what may be expected from the future by living up to the laws of conservation must without doubt place Alberta before many years have passed in the forefront of Canada's provinces.

It is the duty of every citizen to properly value these new possessions and to assume without delay a portion of the general responsibility towards their protection. Only by such consideration can present welfare be assured and only by its continuance can a bountiful legacy be offered to posterity.

Since the resources have come back to the province they have been a source of pride and wealth.

The Turner Valley oil and gas production has taken on increased importance. New activity has been discovered in the Wainwright oil field and it has now been established that Alberta can easily supply its own needs of 1,500,000 barrels of naptha a year, but can supply the entire west.

Land settlement has been increased and the forests, which showed signs of great depletion are now on the way to being replanted with the prospect of new species being introduced and the scope of the whole work extended.

Few provinces can boast of the rich natural heritage that is Alberta's.

Development is going on on all sides and the rich potentialities are drawing men and capital from most of the civilized countries of the world.

Alberta is specially fortunate in its supply of minerals. The annual production of Alberta, since 1915, was as follows:

Year	Value ($)
1915	$16,227,535.00
1916	23,103,687.00
1919	21,087,582.00
1920	32,595,456.00
1921	27,489,180.00
1922	27,672,139.00
1923	31,229,538.00
1924	25,318,466.00
1925	27,144,550.00
1926	29,469,223.00
1927	32,531,416.00
1928	32,531,416.00

Production in 1931 included clay products, coal, lime, natural gas, petroleum, sand and gravel, and stone. Minerals formerly mined include the above, and a small amount of gold. Other reported deposits include gypsum, iron, iridium, salts and tar sand.

Some of the minerals are as follows:

A colloidal clay, important for agricultural purposes, is found in the Red Deer River valley and is used to form a mineral jelly several times its original volume. It is found widely in Alberta. Promising deposits associated with coal seams occur near Rosedale.

Tar sands are also found in Alberta and experiments are being carried out to determine their value.

A deposit underlies thousands of square miles in Northern Alberta, in an area about 300 miles north of Edmonton, reached by the Northern Alberta Railway Company. Analyzed samples show 14% of a viscous liquid bitumen of asphalt origin and the remainder sand. Experimental street pavement in Edmonton and Jasper, made from the Fort McMurray tar sands have shown these deposits to be of great value for highway purposes and it is expected that further experiments will ultimately result in their being very largely used in this respect.

Limestone is quarried for lime and cement in the foothills. Limestone beds extend along the Saskatchewan River, sandstone quarries have been opened at Brickburn, Glenbow, Roeburn, Stanton, etc.

Redcliff and Medicine Hat clay products are manufactured on an extensive scale, including sewer pipe, hollow building and partition tile. Clay ironstone is found along the Red Deer River west of Hand Hills. Brick and Pottery and Stoneware clays are abundant and in the shales of the Pierre and Edmonton series. Brick clays are also being utilized chiefly at Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Sandstone, Red Deer, etc. The discovery about four years ago in the vicinity of the McLeod River in the Edson district of a species of clay containing valuable medicinal properties, has been responsible for the production of a new industry which may reach considerable proportions. These properties have resulted in the manufacture of soap, cosmetics, etc., of a quality which is becoming increasingly in demand.

Central and Northern Alberta are particularly rich in coal deposits, the quality of which ranges from lignite to semi-anthracite. The Province contains 14% of the coal resources in the world and approximately 87% of Canadian coal is found in three distinct layers—the Kootenay, the Belly River and the Edmonton formations. The highest grades are found in the mountains, lower grade in the foothills and lignite on the plains. The principal districts where coal is mined are: (a) in the Kootenay formation, Crows Nest Pass, Banff-Camrose, Brazeau, Mountain Park, Jasper Park, mainly bituminous, but some semi-anthracite and sub-bituminous; (b) in the Belly River formation: Lethbridge, Taber, Saunders Creek and Coalspur, sub-bituminous; (c) In the Edmonton formation: Drumheller, Edmonton, Pembina-Wabamun, lignite. Alberta's coal production in 1931 was 4,584,290 tons with a valuation of $13,415,745.00.

Gold in paying quantities has been found on the banks and bars of the North and South Saskatchewan and in the Pembina, Smoky Lake, McLeod and Athabasca Rivers. As much as $5,000 per annum was at one time recovered from the Saskatchewan River near Edmonton. Record has been obtained of the recovery of $4,000 of alluvial gold in 1915. A rich discovery is reported at Yellow Head Pass on the C.N.R. A living can be panned out of any of the rivers tributary to the Peace, particularly west of Peace River Crossing.

Gypsum is found in large quantities and under favorable conditions for mining, north of Edmonton and in the Peace River District.

Helium—a non-inflammable gas, less buoyant than hydrogen but much safer, can be recovered from natural gases in Alberta. The uses of helium are for inflating airships, filling electric light bulbs and producing low temperature.

Iridium—a deposit is reported in the upper waters of the Peace River.

Clay ironstone occurs on Red Deer River west of Hand Hills.

Seventy miles north of Edmonton, six miles from the railroad, there are large deposits of yellow, red and brown ochre, which (according to analyses), when ground with oil, make an excellent grade of paint.

In the form of brine springs, salt occurs in Northern Alberta, near the Athabasca and Slave Rivers. Large quantities of rock salt are found near Fort McMurray. Glauber salts and other commercial salts occur near Wainwright and in the Ribstone area. Some are being developed. In Northern Alberta, at Fort McMurray on the Athabasca River, interstratified beds have been shown at depths of 650 feet.
